What is FFWD.PRO?

FFWD.PRO is a web design and development conference showcasing industry best practices, case studies, success stories and the latest practical tips and how-to's for designing user-centered digital products.

The conference has come about due to increased demand within the region for more specialized events for internet professionals. It is also a natural progression for us here at Creative Nights by carrying on from where we left off with our very successful series of Web Radionice (Web Workshops) which we have been organizing since 2009.
